3 Significant accounting policies

3.1 Revenue recognition

Sales of goods

Sales of goods are recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have passed to the buyer. Sales are the invoiced value, excluding value added tax, of goods supplied after deducting discounts and allowances.

Customer loyalty program

The Company has launched a customer loyalty program for registered members, under which the customers earn points when making purchases of goods at the specified amount. The points can be redeemed for discounts in accordance with the conditions set by the Company.

The fair value of accumulated points is determined based on the cost of redeemed discounts. The Company records such fair value based on the estimated customer redemption as a deduction against revenues from sales of goods and as unearned revenues. Revenues are recognised when the customers redeem the points for discounts.

The fair value of unredeemed accumulated points is recognised as revenues when the redemption period expires.

Interest income

Interest income is recognised on an accrual basis based on the effective interest rate

3.2 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash in hand and at banks, and all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less and not subject to withdrawal restrictions.

3.3 Trade accounts receivable

Trade accounts receivable are stated at the net realisable value. Allowance for doubtful accounts is provided for the estimated losses that may be incurred in collection of receivables. The allowance is generally based on collection experience and analysis of debt aging.

3.4 Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out method) and net realisable value. The cost of inventories includes costs of purchase, cost of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

The net realisable value of inventory is estimated from the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated expenses necessary to make the sale.

3.5 Leasehold improvements and equipment and depreciation

Leasehold improvements and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and allowance for diminution in value (if any). The costs comprise any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating and decommissioning costs obligation associated with a consequence of having used the assets.

Depreciation of leasehold improvements and equipment is calculated by reference to their costs on the straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives:

Leasehold improvements	3 - 6 years
------------------------	-------------

Tools and equipment	5 years
---------------------	---------

Office equipment	5 years
------------------	---------

Furniture and fixtures	5 years
------------------------	---------

Computer	3 - 5 years

Depreciation is included in determining income. No depreciation is provided on assets under installation.

An item of leasehold improvements and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on disposal of an asset is included in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

3.6 Long-term leases

Leases of assets which transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Finance leases are capitalised at the lower of the fair value of the leased assets and the present value of the minimum lease payments. The outstanding rental obligations, net of finance charges, are included in long-term payables, while the interest element is charged to profit or loss over the lease period.

Leases of assets which do not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as operating leases. Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

3.7 Foreign currencies

Items included in the financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ("the functional currency") which is Thai Baht ("THB"). These financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (INR). All values are reported in INR millions. These financial statements have been translated into INR using the following procedures:

(a) Assets and liabilities for each reporting dates are translated at the closing rates at the date of reporting dates i.e. 2025 - INR 2.5129 per THB, 2024 - INR 2.2857 per THB and 2023 - INR 2.4107 per THB

(b) Income and expenses for each statement of comprehensive income are translated at average rate for the period/year i.e. 2025 - INR 2.4247 per THB, 2024 - INR 2.3471 per THB and 2023 - INR 2.2752 per THB.

(c) Share Capital and (Accumulated loss)/retained profit as at 1 March 2022, have been computed at opening rate as at 1 March, 2022 i.e. INR 2.3018.

(d) All resulting exchange difference are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in "Foreign Currency Translation Reserve" in other equity.

3.8 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Warranties

A provision for warranties is recognised when the underlying products are sold. The provision is based on historical warranty data.

Decommissioning costs

A provision for decommissioning costs is provided for renovations and fitting out at leasehold premises, for certain lease agreements which have conditions that the premises must be restored to their original condition on cessation of the leases.

Provision for long-term employee benefits

The Company calculates its long-term employee benefits obligation on the basis of its best estimate of its payment obligations as at the end of the reporting period.

3.9 Share capital

Ordinary shares

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of ordinary shares are recognised as a deduction from equity, net of any tax effects.

Preference shares

Preference shares are classified as equity if it is non-redeemable, or redeemable only at the Company's option, and any dividends are discretionary. Dividends thereon are recognised as distributions within equity upon approval by the Company's shareholders.

Preference shares are classified as liability if it is redeemable on a specific date or at the option of the shareholders, or if dividend payments are not discretionary. Dividends thereon are recognised as interest expenses in the profit or loss.

3.10 Income tax

Income tax is provided in the accounts at the amount expected to be paid to the taxation authorities, based on taxable profits determined in accordance with tax legislation.

4 Use of accounting estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with financial reporting standards requires management to make estimates and assumptions in certain circumstances, affecting amounts reported in these financial statements and related notes. Actual results could differ from these estimates.
